

Transcripts for Sign Language Videos for the Digital Transformation Framework in Antigua and Barbuda

1. Digital transformation means connecting us globally. – Tiffany Strann- Peters, Programme Officer, Department of Youth Affairs, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
2. Digital transformation means access to good quality data, strategic information, and digital health tools for decision-making and well-being. – Gemma Chery, MD MPH, County Programme Specialist, PAHO/WHO
3. Digital transformation means a brighter future for healthcare and all persons in Antigua and Barbuda – Samora Goodwin, MD, Consultant General Surgeon, Sequoyah Survia, Clinical Social Worker, Sir Lester Bird Medical Centre, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
4. Digital transformation means inclusive learning, enhanced and efficient processes, and digital access for all. – Jameel Lee, Programme Coordinator for Antigua and Barbuda, UNICEF
5. Digital transformation means using digital transformation to ensure that no one is left behind. Help us to help you by providing accurate information. – Kimbalie Constant, Strategic, Operations and Programme Manager, and Andelle Trotman, Field Coordinator, both from the Department of Social Policy, Research and Planning, Ministry of Social Transformation, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
6. Digital transformation means one word, efficiency, being able to do more with less and be as effective and efficient as we possibly can with our marketing resources. – Colin C. James, CEO, Antigua and Barbuda Tourism Authority, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
7. Digital transformation means modernizing through technology. – Rhoda Essien, Representative for Antigua and Barbuda, United Nations Youth Advisory Group
8. Digital transformation means an opportunity to access education, advance entrepreneurial skills, and an opportunity to connect to the world. – Esquire Henry, CARICOM Youth Ambassador and Representative for Antigua and Barbuda United Nations Youth Advisory Group
9. The need for inclusive and transformative technology in digital education is therefore critical for a sustainable future. – Angela L. Davis, Joint Programme Coordinator, UN Trust Fund for Human Security, UN Women, Barbados and the Eastern Caribbean
10. Digital transformation for us as persons with disabilities means access. – Bernard Warner, President, Antigua and Barbuda Association for Persons with Disabilities

11. Digital transformation for youth means staying competitive in the global market and further empowerment in digital spaces. -Shaquan O'Neil, National Youth Ambassador Corps for Climate Change and National Youth Parliamentarian in Antigua and Barbuda
12. Digital transformation can assist with efficiency, preciseness, and sustainability. Digital transformation has the potential to revolutionize the ways farmers work and indeed agro-processors also particularly as it relates to water management, soil care and irrigation technologies. Gregory Bailey, Director of Agriculture, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Agriculture, Trade and Barbuda Affairs, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
13. We also need all of government to understand and to think about how to integrate digital technologies more effectively into their work. - Laura Hildebrandt, Digital Transformation Implementation Specialist, Chief Digital Office, United Nations Development Programme, New York.
14. Digital transformation, it's an essential foreign policy tool. Joy-Marie King, Director of International Trade and the Sustainable Development Goals Focal Point, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Agriculture, Trade and Barbuda Affairs, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
15. The Ministry of Education remains committed to finding solutions for the citizens of Antigua and Barbuda, from early childhood to lifelong learners in the existing and future ecosystem. Stacy Payne Mascall, Assistant Director of Education responsible for Planning, Training, Research and Educational Services, The Ministry of Education, Government of Antigua and Barbuda
16. UNESCO promotes open solutions, access to information and knowledge as well as principles for an inclusive digital transformation that respects and protects human rights enabling people and societies to reach their full potential.- Paul Hector (PhD), Advisor for Communications and Information, UNESCO Cluster Office for the Caribbean
17. We must as citizens, businesses, and government ready ourselves to exploit the possibilities and opportunities that this digital revolution will bring. I hereby invite every Antiguan and Barbudan, citizen and resident, to join this transformation journey with me. Hon. Gaston Browe, Prime Minister, Office of the Prime Minister, Government of Antigua and Barbuda