

PRESS RELEASE

Antiguan Selected as Chairperson of the Organization of American States (OAS) Audit Committee

5th May 2026

It is with distinguished pleasure, we announce that Mr. Dean Evanson, Director of Audit, Government of Antigua and Barbuda has been selected to serve as Chairman of the Organization of American States (OAS) Audit Committee, effective 20th April 2026.

The OAS Audit Committee plays a critical role in ensuring the integrity of the organization's financial reporting, compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, and the efficacy of internal controls. In this role, Mr. Evanson will work closely with Senior management, various committees and fellow committee members to uphold transparency and accountability across all aspects of the organization.

Mr. Evanson has over twenty (20) years of experience in relevant fields such as accounting, finance, auditing and governance. He has previously served as a member of the OAS Audit Committee, CARICOM and OECS Audit committees, which demonstrate a commitment to high ethical standards and sound financial practices.

Mr. Evanson will serve as Chairperson until his term expires on 31st December 2027.
